Gentlemen:

The proposal submitted by your company in response to topic #N90-378 of the Department of Defense Small Business Innovation Research Program Solicitation No. 90.2 has been carefully evaluated by cognizant technical personnel of this Center.

The conclusion of the evaluation is:

Based upon the four criteria listed in the program solicitation, your proposal was not selected because another proposal received a higher numerical rating from a panel of judges.

This information is furnished to facilitate your planning and to establish that your proposal will not result in a contract award. The Commanding Officer, Naval Air Propulsion Center, appreciates your interest and effort in responding to our solicitation and urges your continuing participation in the Defense Small Business Innovation Research Program.

Sincerely,

James F. Thaler
